Welcome to my TypePad e-portfolio. I am exploring the capabilities of using TypePad and Movable Type to maintain electronic portfolios as part of my research on implementation of online electronic portfolio systems.

Click on one of the links in the right side to see the pages that I have decided to include in this version of my portfolio. You can read my biography, see the artefacts that I have identified as my best work, and read my reflections about creating this portfolio.

If you follow a link and want to return, use the Back button on your browser. Within the portfolio you can click on my picture to return to this page.

Every portfolio has a purpose. My purpose for developing this portfolio is to show my skills in developing an electronic portfolio using any number of tools. After reviewing all of my artefacts (see my Portfolio at a Glance) I found five general categories of competencies:

Custom Categories

Categories can be used to organize your weblog posts for easier reference, archiving and display. We've provided a default set of categories to get you started, and you can create your own custom categories tailored to your content. To remove a custom category, click on the appropriate Delete button. This will remove the category but not the posts assigned to that category. If you wish to change the name of a custom category, type the new name in the field of the category name you wish to replace, and press the Save Changes button.
Weblog Basics: Helen Barrett's Electronic Portfolio

Weblog name:
Helen Barrett's Electror

Weblog description/catchphrase:
This is a weblog that I am using to demonstrate the use of TypePad or Movable Type to develop electronic portfolios.

Example: All about my travels in Europe.

Weblog folder name:
This is the folder in which your weblog files are kept on the server. This folder name is appended to your TypePad web address and is used when you or your readers would like to visit this weblog.

IMPORTANT: Once you create your weblog, we recommend that you do not change the folder name. If you do so after your weblog is created, links to your weblog will be broken. Additionally, if you have uploaded any images, the paths will be broken and the images will not display. We provide this option for users

What should I name my weblog?

A weblog is often a reflection of its writer. Because of this, you'll want to give your weblog the type of name that captures who you are and what you're writing about.

Weblog writers often find their audience serendipitously; therefore, your weblog name should be memorable and unique. Avoid names like "weblog", "ramblings", or "writings", for they will not stand out in directories or listings (if you so desire the traffic).

Be succinct and let your personality shine. Nicknames often work...
